JOHNSON TRIAL MAY END TO-DAY

Negro Charged With Criminal Assault Faces His Victim.

COUNSEL IS FIGHTING HARD

Evidence for Prosecution All in; Witness for Defense on Stand.

In the case of Austin Johnson, a negro man, charged with committing criminal assault upon Ruth Pinchbeck, the eleven-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Pinchbeck, of No. 400 Washington Avenue, being tried in Henrico county before Judge Scott, the Commonwealth exhausted its list of witnesses yesterday, and the defense examined two of its number. At 7 o'clock last evening court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning. By midday it is expected that all the evidence will be presented to the jury, and the argument will consume the entire afternoon. The jury may be able to return a verdict to-night.

Mr. Edgar English is representing the negro accused of the crime, and Mr. Louis Wendenburg, Commonwealth's attorney, is looking out for the State's interest.

Ruth Pinchbeck, the little girl, was the first witness for the Commonwealth. Her evidence was straightforward and she bore up well under cross-examination. She was the principal witness for the prosecution, and Cornelia Horsley, a little negro girl, of the same age, who lives near the home of the Pinchbecks, was the star witness so far for the defense. The latter swore positively that the prisoner was not the man whom she had seen Ruth Pinchbeck speaking to and whom she had seen the little girl follow into the alley.

Mother of Child.
Mrs. Nannie L. Pinchbeck, mother of little Ruth Pinchbeck, upon whom the assault was committed, followed her daughter on the witness stand. She testified that Ruth would be eleven years old on the 22d of this month. The little girl had gone out in the afternoon of May 6th to sell cocones for a church, and not returning at the usual hour, she thought she had gotten lost. At 8:15 o'clock, she said, her child was brought to her by two ladies and a man named Beck. She did not remember the names of the two ladies, but one of them said to her, "Examine your child closely."

She testified that the child was very much excited and was crying, and that when she discovered what was the matter, she at once sent for the ambulance and notified the police. The ambulance surgeon arrived before the officer, and treated Ruth.

On cross-examination, she said that Ruth had told her father that she recognized the prisoner when he was first brought to him, but that she was afraid to say so because her father was not present.

Physicians Testify.
Dr. T. B. Leonard testified that he, with the ambulance on May 6th, and when called, arrived at the Pinchbeck home, No. 400 Washington Avenue, shortly after 10 o'clock. He found Ruth Pinchbeck in a frightful condition and treated her. On cross-examination, he said that the wounds inflicted upon the little girl could not have been made by a wire fence. He did not ask the child how her assailant looked.

Dr. J. Richard Williams testified that he was called on the 8th of May to treat Ruth Pinchbeck. He found a scar on her right cheek, a scar on her nose and a scar on her hand. She was otherwise in a bad condition. He advised against the child walking for several days. The cross-examination did not bring out anything. Dr. Williams said he did not question the little girl as to the appearance of her assailant.

Dr. John F. Bright was temporary jail physician at the time that Austin Johnson was locked up. He examined the negro and found that he wore a practically new suit of underwear.

Andrew Jackson, a negro who works at a livery stable at No. 24 South Jefferson Street, said that he had borrowed the pair of shoes shown in court from Austin Johnson on the Sunday following the day the crime was committed. Johnson had passed him going to a pawnbroker's after a pair of tan shoes, and he borrowed the black shoes after trying to purchase them.

Special Officer W. G. Johnson and Special Officer Duke testified to about the same thing. They went to the brick yard where Johnson was and Officer Johnson testified that he saw the negro put something that looked like rags in the fire and burn them. The other officers came up and arrested the negro. Two pieces of these burned rags were exhibited in court by Mr. Wendenburg.

At 2:30 o'clock a recess was taken until 4 o'clock.

After Recess.
Mr. F. W. McKinney, merchant, was the first witness after recess. Commonwealth's attorney Wendenburg showed the witness the two pieces of burned goods and asked what kind of cloth, in his opinion, they were from. Witness said that they were either from the sleeves of an undershirt or other piece of underwear.

County Officer E. C. Greene, who assisted in the arrest of Austin Johnson, said that the prisoner was arrested in Governor's saloon, just in the corporate limits. He carried the negro to Mr. Pinchbeck's home and the girl did not identify him. The negro was freed, and the next day, after hearing that the child had said that Johnson was really the negro who committed the assault, he, in company with other officers, again went on a search for the prisoner. Witness said that he noticed a fire at the brick yard and saw the fragments of some garments. Johnson denied to him that he had started the fire. He went to Jackson and got the pair of shoes once owned by Johnson. Ruth Pinchbeck described accurately, he said, the shoes. She remembered the make of the footwear. Johnson first denied having a dark coat, but later admitted to witness that he had such a coat and that it was in a pool room.

It was dark on Saturday afternoon when he heard of the crime, said the witness, on cross-examination. From the description given, Mr. Crowder recognized Austin Johnson. The girl had said that her assailant was a "chunky" man, with thick lips. He heard the prisoner inside the home of the Pinchbecks say, "It was not me." Witness said that he understood that the colored girl in company with Ruth Pinchbeck had said that Johnson was not the man, and, therefore, he turned the prisoner loose. When arrested the second time and carried before Ruth Pinchbeck, the prisoner was recognized by the little girl, Jackson was carried in first, and he was not recognized. He saw Johnson hold up his hands and heard him say to the little girl, "My God, don't say it was me."

Mr. John Furth, a young man, who lives at No. 1621 West Cary Street, saw Austin Johnson Saturday afternoon, May 6th. The prisoner was running from the police. Johnson had a coat under his arm when he saw him running. He had seen Johnson before, but did not know his name until after he was arrested.

Defense Begins.
This closed the evidence for the Commonwealth, and the defense introduced Cornelia Horsley, an eleven-year-old negro girl. The witness said she saw Ruth Pinchbeck on the afternoon of May 6th. As they reached the mouth of an alley a man passed and Ruth asked him if he wanted to buy some cocones. The man said he didn't want any, but his sister, Beck, would buy some of the cocones. Ruth left with the man, who, so she said, wore a slouch hat, gray coat, black pants and tan shoes, and was a tall man.

Mr. English made Austin Johnson stand, and the little girl positively stated that he was not the man who went up the alley with Ruth Pinchbeck.

Thomas Burns (colored) was the next witness for the defense. Between 5:30 and 6 o'clock on the evening of May 6th, he said, Johnson near Governor's saloon shooting "cops." He next saw Johnson playing pool, about 6:45 o'clock. Johnson was in his shirt sleeves then. Witness repeated that Johnson never wore a coat. He was positive that Johnson was in the saloon at 7:30 o'clock.

The court then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

Following is the jury hearing the case: H. D. Jackson, J. E. Robinson, A. C. Becker, A. D. Blankenship, P. C. Huffman, J. P. Badenock, Jr., D. R. Conrad, Christian Britton, Benjamin Conway, W. H. Lucas, H. A. Burke, W. J. Barr.

Brief Items From Everywhere.

Eleven-Year-Old Wife?

NEW YORK, June 9.—Eleven-year-old Lena Stark says she is the wife of Jacob Finelitte, a middle aged real estate dealer, who is reputed to be very wealthy and who lives at No. 84 Lexington Avenue. The girl appeared in Jefferson Market Court yesterday against Finelitte, charging him with abandoning her. She gives her home address as No. 106 East Ninety-seventh Street.

Mr. Finelitte declared that he does not know the child, adding that he has a wife and a family, and that he is a man that he is the object of conspiracy, the prime mover in which will be punished in due season.

Friend of Webster Fined.
BOSTON, MASS., June 9.—John Wadsworth, eighty-six years old, one of the best known men in Winthrop, who was a personal friend to Daniel Webster, was fined $10 yesterday in the East Boston District Court for failing to pay a pet cat belonging to Albert W. Richardson, formerly a Selectman and a member of the Legislature. This ended the legal dispute between two neighbors which for a long time has held the attention of the reading public in Boston.

Appealed to Cortelyou.
OSWEGO, N. Y., June 9.—The identity of the persons who have terrorized the family of John Jay Tonkin, an iron manufacturer, with threats to kidnap the youngest daughter, Rosemond, is still a mystery. Mr. Tonkin announced yesterday that he had called the Postoffice Department, at Washington, to investigate the case, which has puzzled scores of expert detectives. The detectives have failed to gather sufficient evidence to cause the arrest of a society woman, suspected of being implicated in the plot to kidnap the Tonkin child, and they claim they are unable to fathom the mystery.

WINSTED, CONN., June 9.—The $25,000 damage suit of Louis A. Barnes, of Canton, formerly publisher of the Connecticut Post, against Dr. William Carmichael, of New Haven, was begun before Judge Gager, in the Superior Court, yesterday afternoon.

The plaintiff alleges that in November, 1901, Dr. Carmichael operated upon him for appendicitis and left within the incision a large roll of pad of cloth commonly called gauze, and fastened the roll within the abdomen.

He further alleges that the removal of the gauze on December 20th caused him great pain and agony and greatly weakened his condition.

Cleveland's Revenge.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 9.—President Cleveland has refused the invitation of the club women of the General Federation to address them at their Council and to tell them of his disapproval of their kind. This was brought out last night just at the close of the session. Mrs. Margaret Wardley had sent the invitation and was much chagrined to receive no reply.

Slowed Down for Operation.
NEW YORK, June 9.—While the Majesty of the White Star line, was at sea in a gale her engines were down for two hours in order that the ship's surgeon, Dr. A. B. Francis, might perform an operation and save the life of Arthur Campbell, a steward.

It was Campbell's first trip, and but for the action taken it probably would have been his last. The operation was begun at eleven o'clock at night when the steamship was 20 miles this side of the Irish coast. Captain B. F. Hayes ordered the vessel headed into the wind and ran slowly until the surgeon had completed the operation.

Burned Children's Fingers.
NEW YORK, June 9.—Wm. M. Glover, the South Orange dry-goods merchant, who was arrested for burning the fingers of his children, which, he declared, he did to teach them to let fire alone, was tried before Magistrate Andrew S. Taylor in South Orange yesterday.

When Glover took the stand he told a long and colorful story, embellished with fervid apostrophes to heaven. The judge did some character reading and decided the case in his own mind then and there. At the end of the trial he said:

"Here we have a man who, according to the witnesses, has been a good father, a leader for many years in a Sunday-school, the founder of an orphan asylum and a good citizen. Yet he deliberately inflicted a brutal punishment on his children, although warned by two other citizens not to. He appears to be incapable of judging what correctives to use on his children."

"Concerning his method I can only say that it was abominably foolish, and that Mr. Glover has been punished more than enough already."

Miss Roosevelt at Game.
CINCINNATI, June 9.—The Reds, in their overwhelming defeat of the Brooklyns yesterday, divided honors with Miss Alice Roosevelt, who, with the Longworths and a party of their friends, attended the game at the National League Ball Park. The party included Miss Roosevelt, Congressman Nicholas Longworth, Mr. and Mrs. Wallingford, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Ingalls, Mrs. Starn, Mrs. Rachel Holmes, J. B. Foraker, Clough Anderson and N. C. Herron.

The game was delayed until Miss Roosevelt appeared. As she walked across the field, the crowd was eager to catch sight of her, and applauded vigorously. Hereafter, she has appeared entirely unconditioned of any public demonstration, but to-day she was evidently much embarrassed and hurried to her box.

Seeks to Free Cordova.
TRENTON, N. J., June 9.—Lawyer H. B. Cook, of New Brunswick, will to-day make application to the Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Frank Cordova, the untried minor, who eloped with Julia Bowne, of South River, and who is now in State prison for assaulting and deserting his wife. Cook maintains Cordova is innocent and that his conviction was based on false evidence. He has appealed to the higher courts.

Sno wat Newport.
NEWPORT, R. I., June 9.—A flurry of snow with the thermometer dropping to fifty degrees, was a feature of the day yesterday. The extraordinary weather, however, drove everybody to their open fire-places, where great logs burned as they do late in the autumn.

The Casino, clubs and drive ways were vacated, while everybody was at home wondering if their calendars had deceived them or if it was really June.

against 1,346,000 last week, and 1,040,000 last year. Of the world's visible supply of cotton as above there is now about and held in Great Britain and Continental Europe 1,000,000, against 1,300,000 last year; in Egypt, 100,000, against 131,000 last year; in India, 987,000, against 487,000 last year, and in the United States, 741,000, against 351,000 last year.

LOCAL FIGHTS GROWING WARM

The Clay Ward Actives Will Hear Candidates To-Night.

COMMITTEE PICKS OFFICERS

Colonel Anderson to Speak—Candidates Must Pay To-day.

The municipal campaign is drawing rapidly to a close, only ten days being left in which the candidates may importune the voters before the primary.

The City Democratic Committee met last night, selected judges and clerks for the primary, and the polling places for the several precincts.

It was decided to receive the returns at the Old Market Hall on the night of the primary, which will be June 20th. At noon to-day the time for entries will expire, and it looks as if all the announced candidates will pay up.

All those for city sergeant and Commonwealth's Attorney have already paid, as have a great many who are running for other offices.

New Men Running.
Many men are coming out for the City Committee. Among the latest is Mr. James H. Capers, Jr., of Lee Ward. The officers of the committee will meet in the parlors of the Powhatan Hotel at 10 o'clock this morning to receive the fees of those candidates who have not yet paid up, and will hold the list open until noon.

After that hour no one will be allowed to enter the primary. All the candidates are active and will work industriously until the fight is over. The Clay Ward Actives will meet to-night to hear all candidates for municipal offices, save those for Commonwealth's Attorney.

The clerk will hold another meeting on next Saturday night.

Making Hard Fight.
Colonel George Wayne Anderson is making a hard fight for Commonwealth's Attorney. He announces the following appointments:

Belvidere Hall, Monday night.
Powell's Hall, Tuesday night.
Sanger Hall, Friday night.

Nelson's Hall (Fulton), Saturday night.
The City Committee last night, in selecting precincts, chose No. 274 East Franklin Street for the Second Marshall, and the members congratulated themselves upon having at last secured a comfortable place. Hereafter, the precinct has been in a stable.

Officers and Places.
Following is a list of the polling places and officers for the primary:

Ground to Be Broken.
The pastor of the Church of the Covenant and his devoted people have a great pleasure in store for them. This afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, ground will be broken for their new building. The exercises will be simple, but interesting.

This is a day long looked for by the church, and this faith and patience and diligence are to have a rich reward.

Meeting at Midnight Mission.
There will be a meeting to-night at the Franklin Street midnight Rescue Mission, No. 1434 East Franklin Street. The services will begin with an open air meeting in front of the mission at 9 P. M., and the meeting will be continued inside the mission until midnight. There will be a meeting at the mission on Sunday night also and will begin at 8:15.

FORGET YOUR STOMACH

You know anyone in perfect health never "feels" at the stomach; it's forgotten like any other part of a perfect running machine. No jar, no shock, no sensations at all; just easy, pleasant, restful work—duty well done.

THE WAY

lies in the proper selection of food and drink, getting down to Nature's principles, plenty of good air, good water, and particularly plenty of good food that will easily digest, and nourish and rebuild, not clog up.

A Food Expert,

understanding how the body worked upon food and what kind of elements it required to rebuild itself, used this knowledge in a skillful way to produce a perfect food and called it

Grape-Nuts

There is the natural Phosphate of Potash and Albumen, from which the life forces make the soft gray filling of nerve centres and brain; so brain fog and nervous prostration disappear for the user of Grape-Nuts.

Then again, in Grape-Nuts the starchy part of the Wheat and Barley has been changed into sugar by cooking at the factory, and, as that is exactly the condition which starchy food, bread, cake, oatmeal, potatoes, etc., assumes after the first act of natural digestion has taken place, so we find Grape-Nuts has passed through this process, outside the body and is therefore properly termed pre-digested, a tremendous help for those who are a bit weak in digestive power, and so comes
